

Option to Connect™

Connect your smart thermostat to OG&E's network of smart grid technologies to earn a $15 bill credit while helping keep energy costs low for everyone.

How It Works:

Your smart thermostat will make small, automatic adjustments during peaks in demand for electricity. Your home pre-cools so you stay comfortable, and you can always adjust manually.

Setpoint adjustments are:

- Typically 2–4 degrees
- An average of 2 hours (never more than 4 hours at a time)
- Likely to occur weekdays, up to 3 times per week
- Limited to 15 times per summer season (June 1 – September 30), unless required in extreme weather conditions

Key Benefits

Earn a bill credit

Earn a $15 credit on your bill just for enrolling.

Stay comfortable and in control

Automatic adjustments are small and temporary, and you can override them anytime.

Support a more reliable grid

Small changes across many homes help smooth peaks in demand and keep costs low for everyone.
